What is High School Completion Plus (HSCP)?

High School Completion Plus (HSCP) is a dual credit program that allows students to take college classes and earn a high school diploma at the same time.

Through HSCP, you can start your university studies after completing 9th grade, skipping up to three years of high school. Also, if you choose to do HSCP year round rather than during the 9-month academic year, you may be able to earn both your high school diploma and associate degree in a year and a half.

In HSCP, you will not attend a high school or take high school courses. You will take college courses that transfer to a 4-year college or university and count toward a bachelor's degree. You can take classes remotely from outside the U.S. or in person.

When you complete your associate degree requirements, Seattle Colleges will award you both an official Washington state high school diploma and an associate degree. Your transcript will show both high school and college graduation status, and your diploma may be used as proof of graduation anywhere in the United States.

A high school diploma may also help you gain access to a wider range of scholarships and admission to specific academic programs when you transfer to a 4-year college or university.

Did you know?

Thousands of international students at Seattle Colleges have completed HSCP over the past 25 years and then transferred to 4-year colleges and universities.

It is Washington state law that allows Seattle Colleges to offer this unique dual credit program.

There is no age limit! As long as you are 16 years old by the first day of classes, you can do HSCP at any age.

Need to improve your English skills before you can begin HSCP? You can start in the Seattle Colleges Institute of English and go directly into HSCP when you're done.

HSCP costs the same as the "2+2" University Transfer program and has the same admission and graduation requirements. There are no extra fees, tests, or classes required.

Applying to HSCP at Seattle Colleges is easy!

Requirements are:

- International student application
- $50 application fee
- Copy of passport photo page
- Proof of current English level
- Proof of finances (showing $27,600 in available funds)

Required only for applicants under 18

- High school transcripts* showing at least a "B" average and completion of at least 9th grade

* Students with a high school diploma are not eligible for HSCP but can enroll in our "2+2" University Transfer program instead.

HSCP STUDENT: HTET PYAE SHIN MINN 'SOPHIA' - MYANMAR

"It's very interesting because in two years, you can get both your high school diploma and your associate degree, you can work towards getting both of them, and you don't have to finish high school in your country."
